

IMPROVE EMPLOYEE MOBILITY While Increasing Security

DIGITAL WORKSPACE

The financial services industry is in the midst of a mobile transformation. Employees use more devices in more locations than ever before. And whether these employees work in remote offices, branch locations, call centers, or even customer homes, one important fact remains: Everyone needs fast, reliable access to business-critical applications and data so they can do their jobs effectively.

That vital responsibility, of course, falls on you and your IT team. But in today's mobile work environment, how do you balance employee needs for reliable access and consistent user experiences against ever-increasing business demands and financial service regulations? Rigid security, maximum compliance, and shrinking operational and IT budgets present major challenges.

That's where DynTek can help.

We can show you how to effectively meet the latest employee demands and business requirements with mobile digital workspace solutions powered by Citrix. Citrix enables you to create virtualized digital workspace environments where your employees can securely and reliably access applications and data from any device. At the same time, you can centralize your IT infrastructure to improve security, increase operational efficiencies and lower IT costs.

The DynTek Digital Workspace

DynTek understands the challenges financial service firms face in transforming to a digital workspace. These include how to allow users to access Microsoft applications across a multitude of devices and how to manage a combination of corporate-owned and BYOD devices. It's also difficult to build out desktops on the fly as users log in and then attach applications and profiles that can be delivered in real time.

To help clients take on these challenges, DynTek provides all the necessary ingredients:
