

Clarity PSO Launches New Website

The site gives Clarity PSO a freestanding PSO-specific presence at ClarityPSO.com

Chicago, IL (PRWEB) May 31, 2013 -- Clarity PSO announced today that it has launched a new website at ClarityPSO.com. One of the nation's leading providers of patient safety organization advisory services and solutions, Clarity PSO is an early pioneer of the Patient Safety Organization (PSO) program, and one of the leading experts on patient safety.

The new website is designed to accommodate the increasing need for education and awareness on the topic of patient safety organizations, while also giving people an easy place to go for up-to-date information regarding The Patient Safety and Quality Improvement Act (PSQIA), AHRQ Common Formats, and anything related to Clarity PSO.

Beginning in January of 2015 under the Affordable Care Act (ACA), hospitals with 50 beds or more must belong to a PSO in order to contract with insurance companies. "The new website allows users to explore the PSO program, gain access to invaluable resources through our Learning Library, answer any questions they may have about the PSQIA or the Final Rule, and of course, contact us about contracting with Clarity PSO," says Tom Piotrowski, Executive Director of Clarity PSO. "One of the main components of the Final Rule is education for not only providers, but also other PSOs. We feel that our new website is a great way for us to achieve both."
