

Title21 Health Solutions Honored as a ‘Best Place to Work’ for the Second Year in a Row

Enterprise Healthcare Technology Company, Title21 Health Solutions, was Voted a ‘Best Place to Work’ by the San Francisco Business Times

April 23, 2018 [Pleasanton, Calif.] – Title21 Health Solutions, “Title21”, a provider of cloud technology of Enterprise Quality Management Systems (EQMS) and innovative Cellular Therapy Software was awarded a ‘Best Places to Work’ honor for the second consecutive year by the San Francisco Business Times and Silicon Valley Business Times.

“This is a testament to our talented high-performing team and our culture of excellence and empathy. Title21 is dedicated to helping cure cancer and other life-threatening diseases. Our entire team is passionate about making a difference to advance immunotherapy and gene therapy to save lives. We are continuously innovating our technology solutions to better serve the therapies that leading biotech and healthcare institutions are advancing,” said Title21 Co-Founder and CEO, Lynn Fischer. “Our mission requires a strong sense of urgency to support these hopeful clinical breakthroughs, and our dedicated team delivers that excellent care. Title21 is a growing company where employees ‘connect their head and their heart’ in a culture where they can be lifelong learners and build a rewarding career that truly makes a difference.”

Title21’s Enterprise Quality Management Cloud is deployed at top U.S. hospitals, and Title21 launched the first end-to-end software for Blood and Marrow Transplants, Cell and Gene Therapy and Regenerative Medicine available in the market. “It is incredibly rewarding to work directly with the best institutions that are leading the development in cancer treatments for patients who need it most,” stated Dan Waurzyniak, Systems Architect.

Over 540 Bay Area companies participated in an independent, third-party survey that asked employees to grade their workplace anonymously on criteria such as culture, team dynamics, benefits, compensation, management practices and career development opportunities. Companies that make this list are known for having a purpose-driven mission as well as providing its employees with great compensation and a comprehensive benefits package.
