

Privacy

IntelliCorp recognizes your right to confidentiality and is committed to protecting your privacy.

This Privacy Policy describes how IntelliCorp uses personally identifiable information about our customers collected on the IntelliCorp web site. By using our web site or providing any personal information when using our site, you are agreeing to the collection and use of information in the manner described in this Privacy Policy.

You can visit IntelliCorp online without telling us who you are or revealing any information about yourself. Our web server collects only IP addresses. We use this information to help us understand how our visitors are using our site so that we can improve the content and structure of our site.

Other than as expressly described in this Privacy Policy, we will not share, sell, or rent personally identifiable information with anyone outside of IntelliCorp, without your prior permission or unless ordered by a court of law.

This privacy statement applies solely to information collected by IntelliCorp's web site.

The Information We Collect

If you choose to receive information regarding IntelliCorp's products or solutions, you will be asked to complete an information request form. These forms require users to provide contact information that we use to process the user's request. These forms require your name, company name, email address, company address, and phone number.

Other additional, optional information may also be requested so we can determine and respond to your needs as they relate to our products and services.

The Way We Use Information

At no time will IntelliCorp, sell, trade, rent or distribute personal information to any outside organization. We use e-mail addresses to send requested information and respond to the e-mail we receive. Information such as name, title and company information is used to help us contact users and send information as they request.

The Use of Cookies

A "cookie" is a small data file transferred by a website to your computer's hard drive. IntelliCorp sends cookies when you request information or register yourself for certain services. Accepting the cookies used on our site does not give us access to your personal information, but we may use the cookies to identify your computer.

The cookies used by IntelliCorp are for your convenience and keep track of the information you enter into our system. By accepting the cookies, our site will "remember" you and you will not have to re-enter information every time you request materials such as white papers from our site.

Most browsers automatically accept cookies by default, but you can usually refuse cookies or selectively accept certain cookies by adjusting the preferences in your browser.

Applying for Jobs Online and Your Privacy

Candidates applying for jobs via IntelliCorp's web site will be asked to submit their resumes as email attachments. All resumes received by IntelliCorp are held in confidence and used only for the purpose of considering the candidate for employment or such other purpose as requested by the candidate.

Links to Non-IntelliCorp Web Sites

IntelliCorp may provide links to Internet sites maintained by others. IntelliCorp is not responsible for the contents of, or any products or services offered, in such third party sites.

Notification of Privacy Policy Changes

IntelliCorp may amend this Privacy Policy from time to time. If IntelliCorp decides to make substantial changes the information we collect or in the way we use your personal information, we will post the changes on this page. Using the IntelliCorp web site following notice of such change will be deemed acceptance of the revised Privacy Policy.
