Introducing HighPointTHOR
Strategic Insight and Tendering Excellence with Intelligence Data Services

THOR

/thōr/ Tender History and Opportunity Repository

Get the tendering advantage with THOR, powered by HighPoint Solutions

Meet HighPointTHOR, HighPoint Solutions' new tendering intelligence data service. HighPointTHOR provides seamless strategic insight into today's global tender market. You get the expert data insight necessary to successfully compete for tendered procurement contracts. HighPointTHOR especially improves your tender awareness as it unveils all public opportunities by leveraging historical publications and screening the market daily.

HighPointTHOR is your individualized repository for officially published tender and awards data from public tender authorities.

A tendering intelligence solution is only as good as the data it's sourced from. As of today, HighPointTHOR provides a continuous feed from Tenders Electronic Daily (TED), the European Union's centralized portal for electronically published tenders, established by the European Public Procurement Directive (EU PPD).

HighPointTHOR is continually updated via TED and allows adjusted views of your targeted tenders by:
Product	Tendering Authority	Geographical Location

This allows you to visualize your data within a flexible reporting module.

Unlock unseen tender opportunities with HighPointTHOR's analytic insight

Leverage historical data. Screen the current market. Get the alerts you need based on your requirements. HighPointTHOR will improve your tender and competitive intelligence, enabling the awareness and analysis necessary for successful participation in this highly competitive market.

HighPointTHOR can show you:
