AIMS in the News

We've been busy this past fall/winter, and people have noticed. AIMS was featured in a full-length article in the Dayton Business Journal, entitled "Miamisburg Company Targets International Growth." In the piece, author Tristan Navera outlines AIMS expansion plans and more. "We have a lot of talent in the Dayton region, a lot of smart people here, and that's been a big help for us," said co-owner Mark Gearding. Manufacturing Day 2016

AIMS Metrology was proud to host local dignitaries, high school students and friends on October 7, 2016. Guests were treated to a facility tour and a firsthand look at a manufacturer in action.

Additionally, Marcie Longenecker from the office of Ohio Treasurer Josh Mandel, presented AIMS with a Manufacturing Day proclamation. See more at <http://blog.aimsmetrology.com/blog/manufacturing-day-2016-in-review>.
