Boot Camp Breakdown

Live Interactive Classes

Ditch the DVD's and learn from the best traders in the industry LIVE. Our classes run 4 days a week, so you can stay on top of your progress and get all of your questions answered by real traders.

Trade Recaps

See our setups in action. Watch our reviews on the methodology we use to enter and exit our trades three days a week during the market hours.

Access To Our TC 2000 Layouts and Scans

Get our exacting trading layouts and scans we use to trade the market day in and day out. Get your charting software setup in less than 30 seconds.

Learn How To Day & Swing Trade Stocks

Whatever your lifestyle demands, we trade accordingly. For those who need longer term approaches to trading due to work or otehr commitments, we go over both intraday and multi-day analysis trading.

Free Chatroom Access

Join one of our trading communities where you can meet like-minded traders, provide and receive trading ideas, and continue your trading education as an active trader with Bulls on Wall Street.

Interactive Quizzes and Learning Tools

From our weekly quizzes, to our trading flash cards, to our archived library of over 500 trading setups taken, we have on-demand education between classes to keep you sharp and on top of your trading.

Trading Plans

Trading is no different than starting a business. We provide you with trading plan templates, examples, and processes for you to keep.

1 on 1 Session With Kunal Desai

After completing Boot Camp, passing your quizzes and assignments, and completing your trading plan, get on a 1 on 1 session with Kunal Desai to go over your trades, course grades, and trading plan.

Boot Camp FAQ

Why Choose This Course?

This course is designed to be your all-inclusive trading education package to take you from A-Z on not only learning how to trade, but applying different trading strategies to different markets. If you want to become a full-fledged trader and follow the momentum within different financial instruments, then this course is for you.

Who Is This Service For?

This service is for new traders who want to learn how to trade, while watching our live-stream and market updates, or for experienced traders to learn how to trade other markets with modified approaches. Whatever trading style you possess, we have a trader that you can buddy up or learn from.

Do You Offer Any Refunds?

No, we do not offer refunds on our products. However, when you join the Bulls on Wall Street community, you get instant access to tons of invaluable resources that will help you become a better trader. Because of this, we do not offer refunds on our packages, however, you can cancel at any time and no future payments will be made. We want our members to stick around for the long run, so if you have any questions before signing up, feel free to reach out.

Do You Offer Alerts?

No, we provide trading ideas in real-time to show you how we apply our trading education & setups towards our live trades. You also watch us trade live on screenshare where you can see our charts, scanner, and stocks we are actively trading. We are transparent in our trading and provide our exits and entries for our trades, along with a synopsis of why we entered the trade, and why it went for or against us.

Is This Taught Live?

All day, swing, crypto, and small cap classes will be taught live along with our market recaps during month 2. Our options class however is on-demand and recorded, allowing you to learn at your own pace.

Who Teaches This?

Veteran traders Kunal Desai and Paul Singh. Our Options class is taught by our former student and Options teacher Brian Boyd. There will be guest webinars from our successful students as well.

What Is Tc2000? And Is It Hard To Use?

Tc2000 is one of the best charting and trading platforms in the market. It is easy to use, and we have numerous tutorials showing you all its features and how to use them.

How Do I Get The Layouts And Scans?

Upon signing up, you can access your Tc scans & layouts on your account page.

Does Tc2000 Work On Mac or PC?

Tc2000 works on all platforms. They also have a mobile app that works amazing and carries over your layouts from your desktop as well.

Are There Any Contracts?

No contracts, only one-time payment for life-time access, or through a payment plan.

Do You Offer Discounts?

Please inquire if we are running any holiday or event sales on our boot camp.

What Form of Payments Do You Accept?

Paypal, and all major credit cards.
