

A Message from Elaine Schroth at Visit Concord

The Visit Concord team remains committed to doing our part to “flatten the curve” of COVID19. As we have been collaborating on programs and resources, we have been so inspired by the strength and resiliency of our community and the brave essential workers from delivery drivers, grocery clerks and mail carriers, to health care workers and first responders, who put themselves at risk every day to help others.

Now in the second week of Shelter in Place, our team continues to work closely with mayor Tim McGallian, the City of Concord and Concord Chamber of Commerce to keep the community advised of developments and implement resources and programs for those in need. Together we have compiled lists of restaurants serving takeout and delivery options, provide special store hours, meal delivery and other services for seniors, childcare services for front-liners, and much more.

We love this great community of ours and are proud to see its true colors shine in times like these. And we know you feel the same. For now, the Visit Concord team will continue to bring you the most accurate information possible and support our community members as we navigate the days ahead. Our best advice to all is stay home, stay healthy and stay positive. We will get through this together. Take care and we look forward to seeing everyone again soon.

Sincerely,

Elaine Schroth
