

Finding your right fit

Which Hearing Aid is Right for Me?

Today's hearing aids are designed for different types of hearing loss, as well as an individual's unique needs.

To ensure you find the hearing aids right for your lifestyle, consider your:

Level of daily activity

Common listening environments

Comfort level with technology

Available budget

What's your lifestyle?

Quiet Lifestyle - Level 1 hearing aids work well if you enjoy the simple pleasures in life, like shopping in town, spending one on one time with friends and family and watching television. You want hearing technology that is comfortable, is reliable, and helps you hear your best with no fuss.

Relaxed Lifestyle - Level 2 hearing aids are perfect if you spend your time communicating with a smaller group of people in quiet listening environments. You want hearing technology that has some additional features and is easy to use.

Active Lifestyle - Level 3 hearing aids are a great fit if you regularly engage with people, socially and professionally. You're actively employed, love the outdoors and need the features of your hearing aid to work in demanding listening environments.

Energetic Lifestyle - Level 4 hearing aids are designed to meet your needs if you frequently travel and enjoy loud events like concerts and sports games. You appreciate technology that supports your lifestyle but don't need all of the bells and whistles.

Dynamic Lifestyle - Level 5 hearing aids are made for you if you need to be alert and engaged in demanding listening environments. You want all of the devices in your life to be connected and eagerly embrace new technology.

Cost Comparison Guide

Did you know?

An estimated 15% of the American adult population has hearing loss but less than one-third of those who could benefit from hearing aids, actually use them, in part because of cost.*

Amplifon allows you to restore the sounds of your life and still hear the jingle in your pocket – saving members an average of 65% off retail pricing and a choice of products from all the leading manufacturers.

Depending on your needs and what features you'd like, hearing aid prices can range from less than one-thousand to a few thousand dollars each. We know that the cost of hearing aids can be a concern to many, but you do have options in finding a price range to fit within your budget.
