

Disaster Mitigation Services

Certified Mitigation Technicians

Restoring damaged structures and contents to their pre-loss condition after a devastating flood, fire, or storm event requires an experienced team of mitigation technicians and project managers who can respond at a moment's notice.

Wolgast technicians are fully IICRC certified in multiple areas of restoration and mitigation techniques providing:

- 24/7 Water extraction and mitigation
- Moisture tracking, mapping and documentation
- Removal of contaminated materials damaged by water, sewage, mold, fire, and smoke
- Critical equipment and fixture cleaning to prevent corrosion due to acidic soot and other contaminants
- Deodorization and air purification
- Winterization services
- Board up and tarp off services to reduce further damage

Contents Processing

Wolgast has a full-service, contents processing division capable of coordinating and executing content recovery and restoration from all types of disasters.

Our contents processing services include smoke and soot removal, water damage mitigation, and deodorization. Expert technicians pack out the contents, transport them to our warehouse where they are restored to pre-loss condition, then promptly returned to the property upon re-occupancy.

Inventory Control

Performing a thorough and accurate inventory is critical to contents processing. We provide complete inventory, total loss inventory, and appraisal services for our customers.

Utilizing the latest in smart tablet technology our technicians are able to conduct photo documentation, inventory, and total loss appraisals simultaneously, thus increasing the speed and accuracy of the contents' claim.

Pack-Out and Storage

In conjunction with our inventory system, we use tablet technology to efficiently document contents in the pack-out process.

With our fleet of trucks and drivers, we can execute a pack-out of virtually any size and nature. We immediately transport contents to our climate-controlled warehouse where they are packaged in containers and stored in a secure, dry location while they await restoration processing.

Cleaning & Deodorization

Additionally, the Wolgast Restoration staff is IICRC certified in cleaning and deodorizing contents and surfaces contaminated by smoke and water damage.

All Wolgast Restoration locations have state-of-the-art content cleaning facilities, equipped with the latest ultrasonic cleaning machines, along with hydroxyl and ozone deodorization technologies to effectively remove contaminants and odors.

Our systemized cleaning and deodorizing stations are designed to provide complete mitigation and restoration services with speed and efficiency.
