

PHS Medical by Pivotal Health Solutions Announces the official release of their Physical Therapy and Rehab Product Line

PHS Medical offers innovative care solutions for physical therapy/rehab facilities.

Watertown, SD – March 8, 2019 – PHS Medical is a progressive physical therapy furniture and pain management equipment manufacturer with an emphasis on innovation. They have announced the official release of their new physical therapy and rehab product line, that among existing products, includes three new wood treatment tables and two new aluminum products.

Options for Every Treatment Setting

PHS Medical most recently launched an aluminum treatment table and mat table with more aluminum products to be released soon. These new, advanced aluminum products offer therapists a durable, corrosion-resistant product that is both lightweight and strong. Other new products include their Essential Wood Treatment Table, Hip and Knee Flexion Treatment Table as well as the Basic Wood Treatment Table that all provide therapists the function, storage and patient comfort they need for their day to day workload. These tables join an existing product line of treatment tables and cabinets, mat tables, electric hi-lo therapy tables, portable tables, modality carts, medical cabinets and more.

PHS Medical physical therapy and rehab products are so unique because of their advanced features, quality construction and countless options available. Their warranty also sets them apart. PHS Medical offers an incredible 10 year warranty (structural) on aluminum products and a 3-5 year warranty on almost all other physical therapy and rehab products.

“We are excited to expand into the physical therapy market and roll out these new product offerings to provide therapists with the tools they need to facilitate positive experiences and successful patient outcomes,” says Jim Engels, CEO of PHS Medical.
