

RUSSELL CORROSION CONSULTANTS, INC.

www.RussellCorrosion.com

Founded in 1993, Russell Corrosion Consultants (RCC) has grown to become the nation's leading woman-owned corrosion engineering consulting firm. RCC has performed projects across the globe. RCC takes pride in leading the design and implementation of world-class corrosion control solutions for its clients. RCC is and always has been a completely independent firm that provides its clients with recommendations and designs based on what is best for them, not what is best for a particular contractor or product.

With project experience and engineers trained in Oil and Gas, Water and Wastewater, Transit, Marine Structures and Bridges, Government, Military and Private Industry, RCC has become the go-to engineering consultancy for its broad base of clients for virtually any corrosion-related issue.

Prime Investments Business Brokers acted as intermediary in the transaction. Prime represents sell-side clients in a wide variety of industries, including construction trades, government contracting, IT services, communications, distribution, business services, consulting, medical, manufacturing, software and tech.
