EAGC 2018 MOVES TO BERLIN
A CENTRE OF INNOVATION

EAGC is the only energy leaders conference that moves to a different European city every year, guaranteeing fresh content, discussion and participants with each new location. With the Energiewende, few places in the world possess as divisive an energy policy as Germany.

By providing European market insight and expertise in the context of the host country, the 2018 edition is the chance for the European energy value chain to capitalise on unique knowledge, access and networking that you can only find at EAGC.

Join us for enhanced, added-value event features in November 2018:

- The EAGC VIP Experience
- The Gas & Renewables Session
- Trading Technology Exposé
- Energy Innovation Forums
- Infrastructure Investment Workshops
- National Policy & End-User Engagement
- Cost Optimisation

WHY BERLIN?

Germany is leading the way in achieving the ambitious goals set out in the Paris accord. It has set itself very strict goals around energy efficiency, price competitiveness and citizen prosperity; marking out Germany as the centre of the energy debate. Renewables, gas and coal form a triangle of competition and cooperation across Europe.

Against this backdrop, Berlin, the heart of German politics, is the obvious place to hold the 33rd Annual European Autumn Gas Conference.
