OneStream Software Recognized as a 2015 Core Vendor of the Year by BPM Partners

ROCHESTER, MICHIGAN—(June, 2015)—OneStream Software LLC, global leader in Corporate Performance Management (CPM) has been recognized as a 2015 'Core Vendor' of the year by BPM Partners, an independent and unbiased authority on business performance management (BPM) and business intelligence (BI) solutions.

BPM Partners presented their annual vendor overview and current market trends during "The Pulse of Performance Management 2015: What You Need to Know to Improve Budgeting, Forecasting, Consolidation, Reporting, and Analytics" webcast, hosted by IndustryWeek. During this webcast the list of 'core vendors' for the year were revealed. The Pulse of Performance Management series is designed to provide an unbiased and up-to-date overview of the world of business performance management. Inclusion on this list is determined by depth of product functionality, sales and customer success, and meeting performance management market needs.

"OneStream delivers a unified solution that uniquely includes financial data quality", says Craig Schiff CEO of BPM Partners. "Guided workflows simplify the process for the end user and point them to the right tasks and information. OneStream's solution leverages the power and familiarity of Excel with significant ease-of-use enhancements and full auditability down to the cell level with drill back to the source document or database. OneStream Software is best for upper midmarket and large enterprises looking for a unified solution that integrates data quality and support for business unit system expansion, and is ideal for organizations with complex consolidation and planning needs."

BPM Partners also highlighted OneStream's Extensible Dimensionality® (enabling corporations to have standard dimensions that business units can easily add to for their unique needs without modifying the corporate standard), the Fish Market Solution Center and OneStream XF's direct integration with the Microsoft Office suite (without an add-in).

"We are proud of what we have achieved, both in being recognized as a 2015 core vendor and our continued high ranking in the BPM Pulse Survey customer satisfaction rating, 4.8 out of 5.0", says Craig Colby Sr. Vice President Business Development, OneStream Software. "Our customers have proven that OneStream provides an easy to use truly unified solution unmatched by other CPM vendors."
