DECENTRALIZED CLINICAL TRIALS

Greenphire supports remote trial needs

As the landscape of clinical trials evolves, we are beginning to see more decentralized trials where a portion or all of a study is conducted remotely. For these types of trials, ensuring patient engagement and convenience becomes even more critical.

In support of remote trial requirements, Greenphire's ConneX travel solution now includes:

PATIENT DIRECT

For scenarios where patients are unable to visit the site, this ConneX feature provides specialized ground transportation to patients' homes, ensuring the ultimate patient convenience. This service includes:

- Delivery of critical medications
- Sending required medical equipment
- Transporting healthcare workers to a patient's home to provide needed services, such as blood draws or injections

Offering global coverage with availability on all continents

To help provide reassurance during this uncertain time, our team has reaffirmed provider safety precautions, including:

- Disinfectant cleanings before and after each trip
- Hand sanitizer in vehicles for travelers to use and take
- Enhanced standards for daily vehicle cleanliness
- Executive committee oversight to monitor and assure standards

greenphire®

Greenphire's ClinCard solution includes the following capabilities in support of remote trials:

DATA-TRIGGERED PAYMENTS

Participant reimbursements can be processed in the office or remotely via ClinCard's data-triggered payments

- Open API enables integration with any data provider that has an event-driven scenario (EDC, IRX, CTMS, ePRO, ECOA, etc.)

- Milestone payments can be configured and executed in real-time based on a determined event schedule

DIRECT-to-PATIENT CARD SHIPMENTS

Participants can receive their reloadable debit cards without travelling to the clinic

- New method of distributing payments includes mailing physical cards directly to patient homes

- Existing functionality supports expense reimbursement tracking, including notes for virtual receipts (childcare, etc.)

Call or email: +1 (215)609.4365 - sales@greenphire.com

greenphire®

greenphire.com