Cupboard door:

1. The cupboard door can be supplied as a straight, internal or external. This is inserted into a row of panels in the identical way as a standard panel.

   Note: the cross member of the unit is to the bottom or floor level and the panel above secures it in position.

   Note: as standard these doors hinge to the right hand side on an external and the right hand side on an internal. The straight doors can be hinged to the right or left.

The handle needs to be changed round dependent on orientation.