OVERVIEW OF LABOR AND DELIVERY SERVICES

Lane's Labor, Delivery, Recovery, and Postpartum rooms are designed to allow families the experience of traditional childbirth in a comfortable, caring environment. Each room, while warm and cozy, houses an array of high level technology including fetal monitoring equipment that closely monitors your baby's health during your entire stay. Our labor and delivery unit also has an operating room specifically designed for Cesarean sections.

Our highly-trained nursing staff is experienced in lactation, labor support, and intensive care. This ensures individual attention, and one-on-one instruction on topics such as breast feeding, nutrition and newborn care.

At Lane Regional Medical Center, we believe that the sooner the baby is placed in its mother's arms, the sooner the parental bonding begins. That's why we encourage mothers to have their babies "room-in." In addition to our skilled obstetricians, pediatricians and professional hospital staff, Lane has neonatologists on call 24-hours-a-day to help babies who may need special care.
