

Vaccinations

The CDC has vaccination schedules that you and your family can follow to make sure you are protected. The following diseases can be prevented by following these guidelines for vaccines:

- Chickenpox - Varicella vaccine protects against chickenpox.
- Diphtheria - DTaP* vaccine protects against diphtheria.
- HIB - HIB vaccine protects against haemophilus influenzae type b.
- Hepatitis A - HepA vaccine protects against hepatitis A.
- Hepatitis B - HepB vaccine protects against hepatitis B.
- Human Papillomavirus (HPV) - Gardasil vaccine protects against human papillomavirus.
- Influenza (Flu) - Flu vaccine protects against influenza.
- Measles - MMR vaccine protects against measles.
- Meningococcal Meningitis - MCV4 vaccine protects against meningococcal meningitis.
- Mumps - MMR vaccine protects against mumps.
- Pertussis - DTaP* vaccine protects against pertussis (whooping cough).
- Pneumococcal - PCV vaccine protects against pneumococcus (pneumonia).
- Polio - IPV vaccine protects against polio.
- Rotavirus - RV vaccine protects against rotavirus.
- Rubella - MMR vaccine protects against rubella (German measles).
- Tetanus - DTaP* vaccine protects against tetanus (lockjaw).

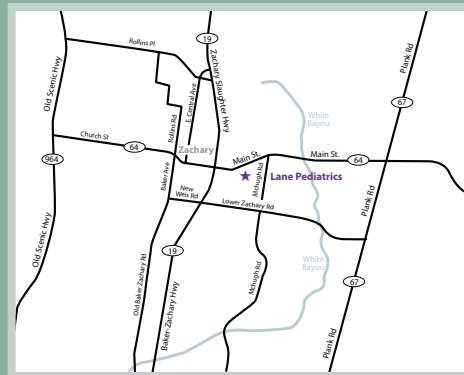

* DTaP combines protection against diphtheria, tetanus, and pertussis.

 MMR combines protection against measles, mumps, and rubella.
