Deliver Continuous Value, Together

DevOps is one of the most important practices to emerge in the Service and Product Management fields in the last decades, and many organizations are investigating what DevOps can do for them.

DevOps is an invaluable methodology for service providers who deliver value to their customers.

When implemented properly, DevOps can:

- ▶ Improve delivery times
- ▶ Reduce downtime
- ▶ Improve customer satisfaction
- ▶ Reduce stress
- ▶ Eliminate confusion

Where to start

DevOps has many process, tooling, and culture elements, and typical organizations are not sure where to start. With so many areas to focus on, adopting DevOps can stall in the very organizations who can get the most value from using it. KiZAN's DevOps Accelerator can help.

Accelerate Your Deployments

KiZAN's DevOps Accelerator is designed to help organizations get started with DevOps and generate immediate wins. By working with your existing teams to identify any process, technology, or organization gaps, we can help transform your existing teams into a DevOps team.

Leveraging our broad knowledge of technologies for continuous integration, continuous deployment, and telemetry, our experienced consultants will work with your team to leverage in-place or new tools to take an application or product to a state of continuous deployment.

KiZAN's exclusive process will provide hands-on consultation and focused DevOps workshops on illustrating concepts and working methodologies. The DevOps Accelerator will center everyone onto one work stream and one method of working across all teams.
