VIRTUAL CHIEF INFORMATION SECURITY OFFICER

A vCISO (Virtual Chief Information Security Officer) offers all the benefits of an in-house security leader with more resources at your disposal. A CISO as-a-service program may be exactly what your organization needs to reduce your cyber security risk and ensure top-notch information security throughout the organization, all while controlling your costs.

Due to the fact that a vCISO service is comprised of a team of highly experienced cybersecurity, compliance and business professionals, the vCISO can greatly extend the abilities, available time, and knowledge base of the corporate CISO. Similar to any virtual system, the service is 'on demand' so it can quickly scale up or down as needed and can match the needs of the organization without concern of over or under delegation of personnel.

Whether you need high level guidance on a monthly or quarterly basis or need hands-on help several days per week, our vCISO's will be able to build a solution for you.

HOW IT WORKS

Cadre will assign a vendor-neutral expert advisor who works remotely or on site to offer a wide range of knowledge services including, but not limited to, advice, consultation, situational awareness support, and knowledge transfer. The advisor will be familiar with your organization, its process and concerns, and act as the liaison to the Cadre vCISO team. The advisor will call on the additional expertise and experience of the vCISO team as needed. While the vCISO is fully capable of designing and recommending solutions, this will be done without vendor specific recommendations unless you request it.

Cadre offers customizable tiers, not a "one size fits all" approach:

TRUSTED ADVISOR

- The trusted advisor will provide security advice and direction on security efforts, security program development, and advising on security best practices for other projects
- A dedicated resource to be onsite once per quarter
- Bi-monthly cadence calls

SECURITY TEAM MEMBER

- The security team member will work with your IT or Security organization. The advisor will direct and push for security efforts inside the company, will assist with ongoing audits and assessments, and will analyze audits
- Dedicated resource to be onsite bi-monthly
- Bi-weekly cadence calls

FULL CAPACITY

- The vCISO will manage the security program's development and maturation. The advisor will set out a security strategy and help build a continuous improvement process to security
- Dedicated resource to be onsite monthly
- Weekly cadence calls
