PLANT SERVICES

CAPACITY AVAILABILITY EXPERTS FOR THE PROCESS & INDUSTRIAL MARKETS

Day & Zimmermann group is a leading provider of total plant lifecycle solutions for the process and industrial markets. With more than 15,000 employees, a network of strategic locations, and a proud history of more than 100 years, Day & Zimmermann has developed a portfolio of offerings designed to maximize value creation for its customers.

Over the past two decades, manufacturing companies in a broad range of industries have come to understand that improving maintenance efficiency and effectiveness is critical to minimizing downtime and reaching higher levels of profitability. Day & Zimmermann's core competence is in the maintenance and modification of existing industrial plants. We understand that capacity availability is critical to efficient operations and provide the engineering, construction, and maintenance services that restore, preserve, and expand your plant's capacity.

Our Plant Services delivery platform offers a turnkey approach to plant maintenance, in-house small capital projects, operations, and site support requirements. Our goal is to develop a program that maximizes asset optimization and productivity.

ASSET PRODUCTIVITY

Day & Zimmermann provides a full line of reliability, maintenance management, maintenance technology, and work process consulting services. We perform validations and assessments of maintenance fundamentals and strategies using best practice programs and tools. Assessments cover all categories of the maintenance function, with extensive focus around the core elements of work identification, planning, scheduling, execution, work closure, reporting, and associated strategies. Assessment results are compared to benchmarked measurements to determine gaps to best practice. The result is a thorough business case, outlining the potentials of cost savings and reliability improvement, and an executable plan of implementation services.

SMALL CAPITAL PROJECTS

Day & Zimmermann delivers a team of skilled crafts people and supervisors to meet the challenges of day-to-day capital improvements, small projects, plant expansions, upgrades, and modifications. We provide estimating, scheduling, procurement, and cost controls to your specification to meet the requirements and the budget of your capital project. Our control systems are designed to meet your needs.

SHUTDOWNS, TURNAROUNDS, OUTAGES

Scheduled facility maintenance or debottlenecking shutdowns are a major expense and inconvenience for production. Day & Zimmermann provides turnaround/shutdown services, including manpower, supervision, engineering, planning, scheduling, and management. Our goal is to minimize downtime and provide a smooth startup and return to production.

STAFF AUGMENTATION

Day & Zimmermann provides a full complement of professional staff augmentation services, including process, maintenance, reliability, and discipline engineers; planners and schedulers; procurement specialists; systems integrators; and construction professionals. We provide the right people to do the job when you need them.
