Cypress Fir is not just beautiful; but it's the ideal wood for outdoor use and has been used for centuries in the construction of homes, bridges, and temples that stand to this day.

The scientific name for the wood used in GoneGreen products is more commonly called Cypress Fir, China Fir or China Cedar.

Cunninghamia lanceolata

The American Wood Preservers Association classifies Cypress Fir as Highly Decay Resistant as well as being naturally repellant to insects.

All products in the GoneGreen series are built using strong, lightweight Cypress Fir.

This member of the cypress family Cupressaceae is one of the most important fast-growing timber trees currently grown

All lumber used in GoneGreen products is grown in maintained sustainable forests.
