Get a Team of 24/7 Virtual Receptionists

Virtual Reception is a phone answering service that goes beyond taking messages. The live operator will answer the phone call in either a personal or a company name, identify the required person or department, and then transfer the call directly to the recipient. If the call is unable to be taken live, the operator will take a message and forward it via email and SMS.

Our call centre is based in Australia and this service is ideal as a professional business phone answering and call handling service, delivering exactly what a business telephone receptionist would do. It may be used as a permanent reception service or for call overflow and temporary call diversions of the main business line, such as during lunchtime or when the reception staff need to be relieved.
