Case Study: Wentworth Douglass Hospital

Wentworth-Douglass Hospital is one of the largest hospitals serving New Hampshire and Southern Maine. With more than 2,000 employees accessing the network, plus countless guests, the hospital faces information security concerns familiar to any healthcare organization.

THE CHALLENGE

>> Protect private patient data
>> Protect employee data
>> Understand & assess vulnerabilities

The hospital is committed to protecting private patient data as mandated by HIPAA and is also concerned with protecting employee data, financial data, and other information. The hospital's information security department requires a trusted partner to help them understand and assess vulnerabilities, and identify, install, and educate them on important security technologies. Over several years and many positive engagements, K logix has emerged as the trusted partner for Wentworth-Douglass Hospital.

THE SOLUTION

>> WAN Optimization
>> DLP
>> Advanced Malware
>> Web Proxy
>> Application Penetration Tests

As Wentworth-Douglass' go-to partner for delivering on its defense-in-depth strategy, K logix has provided important solutions to the hospital. In addition to solutions for DLP, web proxy, WAN optimization, and advanced malware, K logix also assisted Wentworth-Douglass with several application penetration tests.

Wentworth-Douglass contacted K logix requesting application penetration testing services. "The firm we were using had workforce limitations," said Peter Lincoln, Information Security Program Manager at Wentworth-Douglass, "I called K logix with the request and they quickly stepped up with high quality talent. Since then we've worked with K logix as our preferred partner for application penetration testing."

The Benefit of Working with K logix:

>> Quality
>> Reputation
>> Knowledge

According to Lincoln, what sets K logix apart is that "K logix is always there when we need them. Their team is prompt, loyal, and knowledgeable."

Lincoln went on to say, "K logix has a lot of experience providing security solutions to hospitals and healthcare organizations, which is very helpful when it comes time to source, scope, and implement the best technologies for our needs."

ABOUT K LOGIX

We are data security experts. We provide security consulting, technology solutions, and integration services to organizations. Our experienced team and our established process help organizations make confident security decisions that impact their business goals.