

Farmer's Tax & Deductions Tip Sheet

FARMER'S TAX + DEDUCTIONS

TIP SHEET

Crop insurance proceeds

Insurance payments from crop damage count as income. They should generally be reported the year they are received.

Deductible farm expenses

Farmers can deduct ordinary and necessary expenses as business expenses. An ordinary farming expense is one that is common and accepted in the farming business. A necessary expense is one that is appropriate for that business.

Employees and hired help

You can deduct reasonable wages you paid to your farm's full and part-time workers. You must withhold Social Security, Medicare and income taxes from your employees' wages.

Items purchased for resale

If you purchased livestock and other items for resale, you may be able to deduct their cost in the year of the sale. This includes freight charges for transporting livestock to your farm.

Repayment of loans

You can only deduct the interest you paid on a loan if the loan proceeds are used for your farming business. You cannot deduct interest on a loan used for personal expenses.

Weather-related sales

Bad weather may force you to sell more livestock or poultry than you normally would. If so, you may be able to postpone reporting a gain from the sale of the additional animals.

Net operating losses

If deductible expenses are more than income for the year, you may have a net operating loss. You can carry that loss over to other years and deduct it. You may get a refund of part or all of the income tax you paid for past years, or you may be able to reduce your tax in future years.

FARMER'S TAX + DEDUCTIONS

TIP SHEET

Farm income averaging

You may be able to average some or all of the current year's farm income by spreading it out over the past three years. This may lower your taxes if your farm income is high in the current year and low in one or more of the past three years. This method does not change your prior year tax. It only uses the prior year information to figure your current year tax.

Fuel and road use

You may be able to claim a tax credit or refund of federal excise taxes on fuel used on your farm for farm work.

Farmers Tax Guide

More information about farm income and deductions is in Publication 225, Farmer's Tax Guide. You can download it at IRS.gov, or call the IRS at 800-TAX-FORM (800-829-3676) to have it mailed to you.

Click here to get the Farmers Tax Guide from the IRS.

Welcome to Payroll Country.

LEGAL DISCLAIMER: The materials and information available are for informational purposes only, are not for the purpose of providing legal advice, and may not be relied upon as legal advice. The employees of Complete Payroll are not licensed attorneys. This information is provided pursuant to and in compliance with federal and state statutes. It does not encompass other regulations that may exist, including, but not limited to, local ordinances. The transmission of documents or information does not create an attorney-client relationship. Complete Payroll makes no representations as to the accuracy, completeness, currentness, suitability, or validity of the information on this website and does not adopt any information contained on this website as its own. All information is provided on an as-is basis. Please consult an attorney to obtain advice with respect to any particular question or issue.