Hacking has become big business for criminals and is now the fastest growing crime type in the world.

In more than 60% of all network breaches the hackers simply log-in as a regular user and have undetected access to systems and data.

With Multi-Factor Authentication from CensorNet you are effectively taking the hackers' preferred weapon away.

Contextual Authentication

CensorNet's Multi-factor Authentication has an advantage over traditional two-factor authentication solutions. The CensorNet solution looks at multiple contextual factors surrounding each particular login:

- Session ID
- Network IP
- Geo Location
- No. of Successful Logins
- Type of System Being Accessed
- Time of Login
- Device Being Used
