Sim Tech Holdings, LLC.(hereinafter and indistinctly HOLDER or the Responsible), with address at 5705 Timber Star, San Antonio Texas, 78250; expressly informs you:

B. Personal data collected and processed

For the purposes indicated in this Privacy Statement, the Controller processes the following categories of personal data:

1. Identification data,
2. Data of personal characteristics, and
3. Data of social circumstances.

C. Treatment of sensitive personal data.

The Controller does not collect sensitive personal data to carry out its purposes and the owners-users of social networks must refrain from sending this type of data through the channels available on said networks.

D. Responsibility of the Responsible, of the owners-users of social networks and of the providers of social network services.

The Controller processes personal data of the owners-users of social networks by accessing and managing the information that said owners-users publish or disseminate through the profiles they have created in each of the social networks they use to link with the Responsible. This treatment also includes the use of personal data for the purpose of disclosing the activities of the Responsible Party or its group of companies. The Responsible party accesses, manages and takes advantage of the personal data of the owners-users of social networks only during the period in which the owner-users remain linked to the profiles that the Responsible party manages in each of the social networks involved.

The owner-users are responsible for the accuracy, veracity and updating of the personal data that they publish on their social network profiles, as well as the degree of dissemination of their information and the access to it that they allow or authorize to third parties through said profiles. The recommendation is made to all owners-users of social networks to continually review the privacy settings of their profiles on each of the websites they use to link to the Responsible.

The social network service providers are responsible for the databases created with the personal data of the users of said networks. These service providers are in turn responsible for the security measures they adopt to safeguard the personal data of their users.

In accordance with the foregoing, the Responsible is obliged to provide adequate access, management and use of the personal data of the owner-users that are linked to the profiles that the Responsible manages in various social networks. No new databases are created with the information and/or personal data of the owners-users of social networks.

E. Purposes of the treatment
