Our hearts and thoughts go out to everyone who has been affected by this unprecedented situation with COVID-19. We understand that school supplies for the 2020-21 school year might not be at the top of your To Do List right now. But, we feel it is important for schools and families to stay on track so our children can have productive learning environments when they start back after the summer.

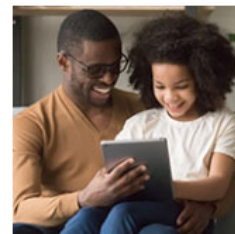

EPI encourages you to purchase your school supply pack now and check it off the list of things you need to do.
