ORDER ONLINE, MANAGE ONLINE

Select your Site Builder plan and go live in no time!

The Ignite online portal allows clients to select the Site Builder plan they want by comparing the different options available. Depending on the domain services you need, choose the plan that suits you best. Site Builder comes with the option to choose a .co.za domain name with your new site, or you can choose a plan without a domain name. So, which one is right for you? Let's take a look:

If you have an existing domain name and want to keep it, you'll need to select the plan that excludes a domain name. You might have an existing domain with a different service provider and want to move it to the Ignite platform. We make this easy by allowing you to transfer your domain yourself, or you can let us take care of it for you.

If you're registering a new domain name, select the right domain type (.co.za/.com/.org/.gov/etc.) that correlates to your business, location, industry, etc. Make sure you select the best name for your website to get found online and start building your site in minutes.

Once your domain plan is selected, you can choose between our Limited and Unlimited Site Builder Plans. More about this in the next section.

DOMAIN REGISTRATION

You're one step away from launching your brand-new website

Before you start building your new website, we'll need to cover your domain requirements. If you already have one, you can choose to transfer it to us but you'll need to initiate this domain transfer with your current provider. You can also quickly register a new domain with us.

Once your domain requirements are sorted, fill out your company details and you're ready to ditch the paperwork and start getting creative with your new website. The set-up process takes only a few minutes and Site Builder will be provisioned the minute you're done. Remember that you can view a full breakdown of all your services right from the Ignite portal.

USING SITE BUILDER TO BUILD YOUR WEBSITE

Going live has never been so simple and stress-free!

The Site Builder platform is exceptionally easy to use. The platform is specifically designed for an easy and intuitive user experience, minus the steep learning curve associated with learning a new piece of software.

Site Builder has a plethora of website templates, widgets and plugins you can use to kit out your website with all the functionality you need. To start, simply choose a template that reflects your brand and start customising it with your own content (website copy, images, video, etc.)

The file management system built into Site Builder makes it easy to organise your content and place it on the website. Arranging the content is a simple matter of "click and drag". You can also revert to previous versions of your website in case you don't like the direction in which you're going with the design and adjust the colour scheme of the templates you've chosen.

Site Builder gives you all the web development tools you need to build a website that's second to none.
