September Events

Singin' and Swingin'

Tuesday, September 5, 2017 • 1:30 p.m.

Chris Anderson, the former singing busboy, has come a long way with his music. He will delight us with the jazz and pop music of his grandfather's era when he performs for us.

And All That Jazz

Monday, September 11, 2017 • 1:00 p.m.

We are lucky to have one of our favorite jazz pianists back to entertain. Primo Kim's tours have taken him to various venues around the US as well as performing for Royalty. We don't have to go to the Seattle Opera House to hear him — he is coming to us!

History in Art Form

Tuesday, September 12, 2017 • 9:30 a.m.

The Art of the Great Masters from 1600-1800. Seven classes conducted by Jan Steen with wit and knowledge of the great Dutch and Flemish master artists. Classes will be held on seven Tuesdays from September 12th through October 24th including a museum trip. Resident Fee $40, Non-Residents $55. Call Fay Weed for more info at 253-838-3700 or Elizabeth at 206-789-1233.

Living Longer, Living Smarter

Tuesday, September 19, 2017 • 3:30 p.m.

Thinking ahead ... is your home and community a place where you could stay involved with the people and places you love? Or would it hold you hostage if you couldn't drive or get up and down the stairs? Can you afford those important extras out of your retirement savings? And what extras should you plan for? Why should women, in particular, care about these things? Join us and discover how you can better prepare for your future.

Reservations required for all events.
