

5 tips to stay safe on social media

Fake accounts mean fraudulent behaviour!

1

Privacy settings

Setting your accounts to "private" and locking down what people can see on your privacy settings keeps unwanted eyes away from your personal life.

2

Only accept people you know

Ensure you are only accepting people you know as fake accounts are purposely created to prey on vulnerable people sharing too much personal information.

3

Don't share everything

There should be limits to what you share on social media. Sharing your birth year, where you live and when you're on holiday attracts all sorts of criminal behaviour.

4

Passwords and 2FA

You should use strong and different passwords for every account you have. Enabling two-factor authentication (2FA) is also important to help keep your account and data safe.

5

Take a time out

It's easy to get obsessed and scrolling through news feeds for minutes turns into hours. Limit the amount of time you use social media and remember there is a life beyond the screen.

We always recommend a multi-layered approach, which is why a combination of cyber security and disaster recovery solutions as well as educating your team is important.
