Make our performance yours with a unique approach to flexible buying

Open Energy Market's commitment to simple and innovative energy buying led to the creation of our industry-changing Performance product. It has all the benefits of traditional flexible procurement, where our specialist traders access wholesale commodity markets, but eliminates the complexity.

We run the Open Performance Fund for gas and power contracts in 12-month seasons. Whether energy buyers join the fund or run their portfolios in parallel, they know that the same rationale, trade timing and savings will apply to them.

At the heart of that is real performance. Through successive seasons, our Performance Fund has delivered profit with closing prices cheaper than the market average. That's a saving that our unique model allows us to pass on to our customers.

Integral to our continual outperformance is budget protection. Straightforward and holistic risk-management allows our traders to focus their buying strategy on what really matters: giving our members more budget certainty, removing upfront financial risk, and making their portfolio perform.

Of course, the proof comes in our trading results. They are not only published. We're the only UK energy consultancy to have results independently tracked by a top-20 City accountancy firm. And thanks to the automated technology of the Open platform that supports Performance traders, our members have full visibility and reporting power to see that for themselves.
