- Utilize recruiting resources to attract qualified professionals interested in temporary employment
- Utilize job boards (Monster, Workopolis, Indeed) to identify talent and build an available candidate pool

- Utilize LinkedIn and other social media outlets for “outside of the box” searches on an ongoing basis
- Utilize Bullhorn to maintain contact and relationships with candidates on an ongoing basis in an attempt to keep kiosk current and active
- Manage inflow of applicants via inbox and allocations on a timely basis as prescribed
- Evaluate all resumes received and select only candidates that are appropriate to enter into the interview process
- Complete reference requests on a timely basis with a high degree of accuracy and completion, and solicit any market intel and/or sales leads
- Solicit sales leads and market intel via candidate pool on a weekly basis
- Update and maintain candidate information in Bullhorn on a timely and consistent basis to ensure kiosks are kept current and active
- Complete client resume requests on a timely basis with a high degree of accuracy
- Suggest and refer candidates to Associates on a job-specific basis via tearsheets
- Solicit referrals and follow up with potential talent
- Ensure metrics are achieved

About You

Quality candidates must demonstrate a willingness to complete repetitive tasks in a high volume, time-sensitive environment and manage competing priorities. You are a confident, results-oriented, self-motivated, smart, tenacious, honest, competitive team player with a track record of high performance accompanied by:

- A minimum of an undergraduate degree, preferably in Business Administration, Finance or Accounting
- Have prior experience and exposure to accounting and/or recruiting (preferred but not required)
- Demonstrates strong time management and organizational skills to meet daily and weekly metrics
