

Optimized workplace with digital signing

The challenge

Even if organizations are becoming more digitized today many are still struggling with manual and time-consuming processes for handling signatures of agreement, contracts and legal binding documents to stay compliant and secure.

These manual processes are driving additional cost for the organization regarding printing, scanning and shipping as well as indirect costs such as filing, archiving, or tracking.

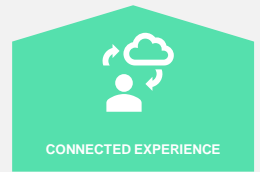

And with organization aspiring to provide services with a connected experience to customers these manual and slow processes are a major drawback.

The solution

Integrating digital signing capabilities into the organizations business processes will unveil a large set of productivity gains as well as the possibility to innovate and improve the connected experience for users, partners and customers.

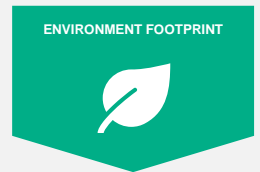

By using digital signing capabilities and the power of digital signatures the organization can ensure that signatures always are verified, authentic and legitimate to ensure signed documents are tamper proofed, compliant and legally valid.

The value

Using digital signing within the organization will reduce direct cost related to traditional document management and introduce huge savings in turnaround time since documents can get signed from anywhere using a tablet, phone or computer.

Digital signing can provide seamless integration into the organizations Office 365 environment to drive efficiency and through API's enable new and innovative applications and services.

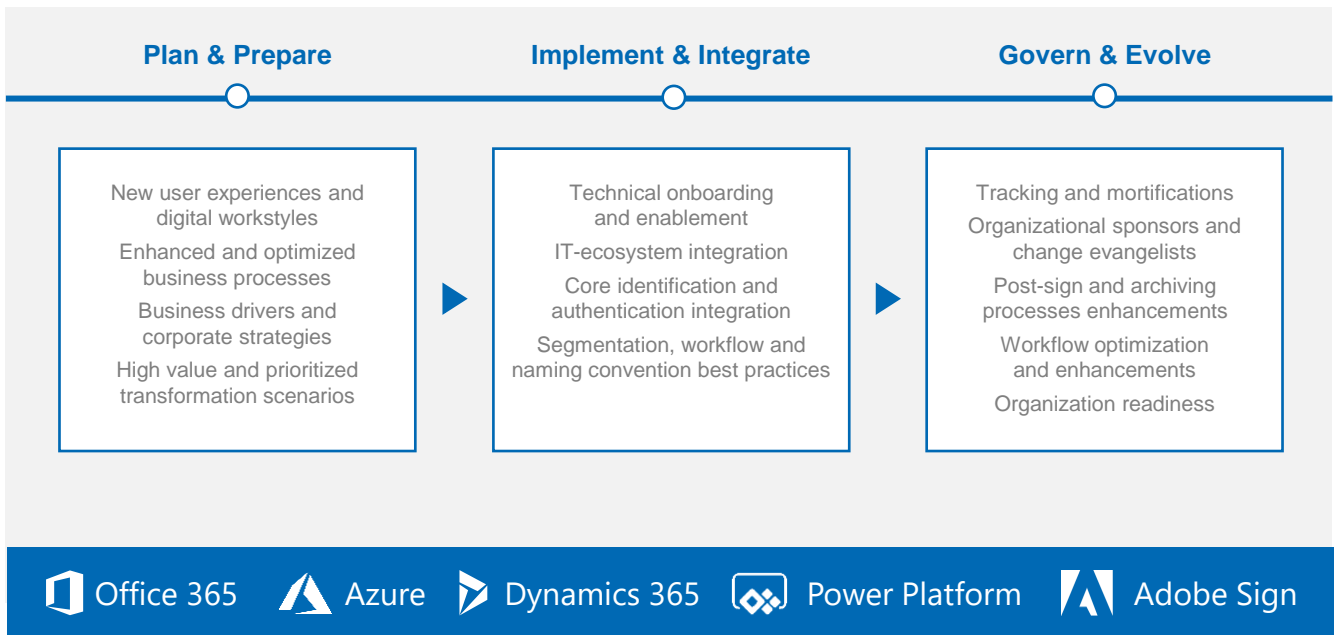

Digital signatures increases security by reducing the risk of duplication or alteration of the documents and are compliant with demanding industry standards and regulatory compliance requirements from around the world.
