Website Established for CY 2021 Subsidy Processing

HUD's Office of Public and Indian Housing (PIH) has opened the website for calendar year \(CY\) 2021 subsidy processing. There are various documents, notices, guidance, links to forms, and other resources available on the new site, but the only item that appears to be completely new is the document regarding calculating the CY 2021 resident paid utilities (RPU) benefit. The 2021 schedule, explanations and obligations documents, and UEL inflation factors, among other important documents and resources for CY 2021, are currently listed as "coming soon."

HUD Allocates Third Wave of CARES Act Funding

In a press release yesterday, the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) announced that it has allocated the third wave of COVID-19 relief funding implemented under the CARES Act. This wave of funding, totaling $1 billion, has been provided through Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) program. To date, HUD has provided over $3 billion in CDBG funding nationwide to help communities fight COVID-19 and alleviate economic hardship. According to the press release, the allocation formula uses variables focusing on public health needs, risk of virus transmission, rate of cases, and economic disruption. Grantees may select from more than 25 eligible CDBG activities to shape their local programs to meet their needs. Further details about this third wave of CARES Act funding, including a link to the complete list of allocations, can be found in the press release.
