May The Force (of Access) Be With You

A long time ago, in a shopping center far, far away, a dark time prevailed for consumers who were forced to pay full price on their everyday purchases.

The dark side of the imperial retailers had driven off deal-minded consumers by flooding the market with empty, ho-hum discounts. Shoppers grew doubtful that deep, rich discounts would ever again prevail. Hopelessness grew among the consumer rebellion.

But to resist the imperial retailers, the rebellion discovered the Access discount platform, a members-only, value-packed, easily redeemable saving program. Dispatching powerful savings of 25%, 35% even 50% off at over 300,000 restaurants and retailers, Access delivered the ultimate weapon: the largest private discount network throughout the far reaches of space. Suddenly the consumer rebellion became empowered to save money on their everyday purchases. When they realized they could save more than enough to cover the cost of their dues, economic freedom was restored to the galaxy.

Your Lack of Faith in These Discounts Is Disturbing
