

The Problem

Quarterly EMR upgrade projects require significant coordination of time, resources, and documentation. This is a manual process, involving multiple places to make resource requests, manage documents, track tasks, and provide visibility to leadership. The impact of this is missed opportunity, significant time & productivity loss, and potential risk to availability of the EMR system.

The Solution

This solution leverages the core capabilities of NOW platform to plan, implement, and manage EMR Upgrades. The solution utilizes IT Business Management and Application Project Management (APM) allowing project teams to consistently deliver on regular EMR upgrade projects and gain enhanced functionality.
