Creating a promotion from scratch

1. To create a new promotion from scratch click Add Promotion.

You can do this Single View, Double View, ListView, and Thumbnail View.

For an explanation of the different views in Promotions Scheduler - please see our guide

2. In a pop-up window, enter the obligatory promotion information; Chain, Type, Mechanism and Start/End Date. Enter the remaining promotion information you wish and press Next

3. In the next window, you can add Support Types to your promotion - if you have created this. Select the support Type and press Next.

If you do not use Support Types, please go to Step 4, which shows how to add products to the promotion.

- 4. In the next window, you can now add products or units to the promotion. Click Add.
- In the window, you can also add Sales in, Sales out, Promotion price and Unit cost when adding products.
- 4.A A new pop-up window opens, and you now have the option to add Products or Units by searching by Name, EAN, Internal or External number.
- You can add *Products*or Units by opening op the categories and double-clicking the product you wish to add to the promotion.
- If you want to add all products from a category to the promotion, just double-click the category.
- When you are done adding products, click the red X to close the Product Selector.

- 4.B Now the products are added to the promotion. In the same window, you can add data like Sales out, Sales in, Promotion price and unit cost.
- Double-click in the field you want to add data, finish by pressing enter or double-clicking another field.
- When you have added the products and data you wish to your promotion, click Save.

⚠ OBS! When you have saved the promotion, you can always edit the promotion details by clicking it.

Creating a promotion by double-clicking

- 5. To create a new promotion by double-clicking go to Promotion Scheduler and double-click this can be done in Single View and Double View.
- 6. Now follow Steps 2-4 above to create the promotion.

Creating a promotion by copying an existing promotion

Promotions can be copied from both Single View, Double View, ListView, and Thumbnail View.

Our guide will show you how to copy a promotion in Single View, but the steps are the same.

7. To copy an existing promotion go to Promotion Scheduler and select the promotion you want to copy by clicking it. Then click Copy Promotion.

8. The promotion can now be copied to a single week or several weeks and across chains and to several chains. When you have selected the weeks, and chains you wish to copy the promotion to press Copy.

8.A If the period you want to copy your promotion to is not shown in the Year/Week column, press More Weeks. In the calendar, you can now select a period and press More Weeks to select the period.

Now follow step 8 to finish copying your promotion.

OBS! You will experience an error message if you copy a promotion to a chain, where one or more products are not listed. If you wish to add the products or units, then you need to add the chains to the products.
