

ASK YOUR STATE REPRESENTATIVE TO SUPPORT PASSENGER RAIL IN VERMONT

Vermont Rail Action Network (VRAN) supports the creation of a passenger rail network connecting Vermont's cities and towns through an integrated public transportation service, including other forms of transportation. The result will reduce greenhouse gas emissions and improve the quality of life for all Vermonters.

There are 12 Budd cars ready for service on the state's rail network. When launched, these new regional routes will support the future growth of housing and other forms of sustainable development in and near existing Vermont population centers.

Public and private transportation entities and others interested are being engaged in providing safe, reliable and cost-effective passenger service between Vermont's cities and towns. This rail service will complement, not replace, existing bus service. The vision is an integrated statewide transit system that makes door to door commuter service possible and eliminates the need to own cars.

As part of the process of engaging communities we are looking for signatures in support of this passenger rail service.

Fill in your information below and thank you for your support!
