Joe developed Social Security Timing[®] in 2010 because, as a practicing financial advisor, he couldn't find a Social Security tool that would help his clients make the best decision about when to elect their benefits. Inspired by the success of Social Security Timing, Joe founded Covisum[®], a financial tech company focused on creating a shared vision throughout the financial planning process.

In 2016, Covisum introduced Tax Clarity[®], which helps financial advisors show their clients the hidden effective marginal income tax rates that can significantly impact cash flow in retirement. In early 2017, Covisum acquired SmartRisk[™], software that allows advisors to model "what-if" scenarios with account positions and align a client's risk tolerance with their portfolio risk.

Covisum powers some of the nation's largest financial planning institutions and serves more than 20,000 financial advisors.

Based in Omaha, Nebraska, Joe co-authored "Social Security Essentials: Smart Ways to Help Boost Your Retirement Income," is a regular speaker at industry events and is frequently interviewed by trade and national media.

TAX EFFICIENT RETIREMENT

Approximately 73 percent of Social Security recipients have taken reduced benefits prior to their normal retirement age. For many of them, this may represent a serious financial mistake. A recent survey found that 77 percent of respondents expected to receive advice regarding their Social Security distributions from the Social Security Administration. None of them were aware that the SSA is prohibited from giving advice regarding collecting benefits. This presentation is designed to provide an understanding of the basic rules regarding Social Security retirement benefits, the various elections available to dual income earners, and other retirement income planning issues surrounding the Social Security process.
