

PROCORE® + RHUMBIX

Rhumbix seamlessly integrates with the Procore platform to digitize the last mile of data collection. Leverage our partnership to provide your project teams with a single hub for all project data, as well as powerful insights into labor productivity.

THE TECHNOLOGY YOU NEED. INTEGRATED AND SIMPLIFIED.

Give your project teams more time and control in making decisions by eliminating manual and duplicative processes for recording time cards, forms and field data.

Why you should leverage Rhumbix and Procore:

- Go completely paperless on your jobsite
- Increase your operating margins by improving labor productivity
- Standardize field reporting and T&M Tags for all of your subcontractors

OUR PARTNERSHIP

Rhumbix has partnered with Procore to offer an out-of-the-box integration. This partnership allows for your construction operation to easily collect and communicate critical data between our systems.

The integration between Rhumbix and Procore combines the most leveraged part of your construction operation: production data with your project management platform. Our partnership will drive more accurate data and faster decisions to increase operating margins.

ABOUT RHUMBIX

Rhumbix is a construction-specific digital timekeeping and field reporting tool that feeds a productivity platform. Founded by veterans of the US Navy and construction industry, Rhumbix is the path to empower your workforce to increase operational efficiencies and labor productivity.
