

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

ImageFIRST Exhibiting ScrubVAULT® System at AORN and ASCA Conferences

King of Prussia, PA – ImageFIRST Healthcare Laundry Specialists is exhibiting their ScrubVAULT System at two industry shows this spring.

ImageFIRST will be conducting live demonstrations of the ScrubVAULT System at booth #1152 of the Association of PeriOperative Registered Nurses (AORN) 2019 Conference in Nashville, Tennessee from April 7 to April 9. AORN attendees will be able to interact with the ScrubVAULT System first-hand and learn how the system can be paired with a fully-managed scrub program for comprehensive inventory management to control costs, make staff accountable, and be compliant.

ImageFIRST will also be holding live demonstrations of the ScrubVAULT System at the Ambulatory Surgery Center Association (ASCA) 2019 Annual Conference in Nashville, Tennessee from May 15 to May 17.

At booth #608, ImageFIRST will provide attendees information about the ScrubVAULT System and how it pairs with their fully-managed scrub program. These programs leverage RFID technology to help health system departments and medical offices keep their scrub and lab coat inventory under control. Medical professionals who visit the ImageFIRST booth at either conference will also have the opportunity to win prizes.

The ScrubVAULT System is an easy-to-use, compact cabinet that securely stores, dispenses and tracks the distribution of scrubs while providing full visibility of inventory and usage. The System works with ImageFIRST scrubs chipped with radio-frequency identification (RFID) technology for accurate tracking and traceability. This new system adds to ImageFIRST's portfolio of laundry and linen services tailored specifically to the healthcare industry.
