

What is the single biggest factor you consider when making risk-mitigation decisions?

What is the single most important security posture you're working to improve?

If you've experienced a breach (or are aware of a breach elsewhere), what happened next?

In December, the Business Roundtable has proposed national privacy law that would apply same data collection requirements to all companies.

46% of organizations were breached last year; 22% were nearly breached (IDG). What should happen then?

