

Do you have the partnerships necessary for equipment reliability?

Often in site meetings following the shifts where Production fails to make their numbers, all eyes shift to the Maintenance Manager to explain some equipment failure. Everyone is looking in the wrong place. Reliability cannot be created by Maintenance alone. Reality is that 83% of equipment failures are a result of behaviors from functional site groups other than Maintenance. Do you have the partnerships necessary for equipment reliability?

Jeff Shiver, CMRP, CPMM, CRL, RCM2 Practitioner
Managing Principal