

PRESS POINTS

Just the facts

Founded in 2017 by education development veterans Kimberly Linson, Tara Reynolds, and Liz Szporn, Leaderally seeks to improve teacher retention and engagement. Leaderally is the online, on-demand professional development platform for Pre K-12 educators. Utilizing a 21st-century approach, Leaderally delivers original and curated micro-content, coaching, and social learning opportunities based on foundational leadership skills - communication, management, and strategy. Leaderally content is personalized, relevant, and packaged in modules that educators can access easily. With 50% of teachers exiting the profession within the first five years, the old way of doing professional development must change now.

Headquartered in Morristown, New Jersey, more information is available on www.leaderally.com.

Service offerings

- On-demand micros courses via Leaderally Learning platform (individual or group subscriptions)
- Personalized Professional Development Survey
- The Warm Up news letter - delivered three times a week
- Virtual and in person webinars and workshops
- One on one leadership coaching
- Consulting for individual schools and educators
- Personalized content creation based on needs assessment

Thoughts? Questions?

Contact Liz Szporn at Liz@leaderally.com or 973-727-7096