MINOR security flaws can cause MAJOR data breaches.

If you do business online, handle either customer or medical data, credit cards and orders, or want to succeed in the digital age — you need Cyber Liability Insurance. Not just in case, you need it because it is essential to the success of your business. Have you ever lost a USB drive? Have you ever forgotten to sign out of your email on a public computer? Have you ever used an easy to guess password? Cyber threats will only increase because cyber criminals have much to gain and you have much to lose.

Don't make the mistake of thinking, 'I don't need this because it won't happen to my business.'
'One-third of all cyber attacks are carried out on businesses with less than 250 employees.'

Tameka Sapp, Account Executive

Research conducted by Symantic© Security.

Cyber Attacks have increased 48% in 2014.

$500K

The average cost per record from a data breach is $194. If you have 3000 clients, you may be facing $500,000 in expenses and fines.

The cost of not being covered is devastating.

5 Reasons why you will love our Cyber Liability Program.

1

You are covered from the beginning.

You are covered from the day you began your business rather than the date the policy started. Most breaches are unknown for years before insurance is in place and they are discovered.

2

First Party Expenses are covered.

These expenses include notifying customers of the security breach, indemnification costs, reputation damage control, hardware damage, business interruption expenses, fines and penalties, and legal costs.

3

Third Party Damage is covered.

Even if your data breach affects your clients or even your client's customers, all Third Party Damage expenses are covered.

4

There is no encryption exclusion.

Our policies cover a breach even if it occurred on an unencrypted device, which is important because most devices are not unencrypted.

5

Regulatory Fines and Penalties are covered.

Our program covers regulation fines and penalties from the Government, which can total in the millions for businesses with a lot of customer information.
