The screenshot shows the 'Intern & Learn' website interface. A red arrow points to the 'Opportunities (start here)' link in the left sidebar. Another red arrow points to the 'SEARCH' button in the top search bar. A third red arrow points to the 'Most Responsive Internships' dropdown menu, which is currently set to 'No'. A fourth red arrow points to the 'Concentration or Interest' dropdown menu, which is currently set to 'Global Economics & Business/International Trade'. The main content area displays a list of internship results, including 'House of Rep. Intern', 'Creation Justice Ministries Semes', and '826DC Educational Programs Inte'.

>> 3 Advanced search > Select “Yes” for Most Responsive Internships (Regular host to AU students) and choose your > Concentration or Interest > Search

- The internship locations in this category regularly host AU students and contacts herein are often responsive. Keep an open mind. If you do not land your ideal internship this semester, the position you secure with a motivated supervisor may serve as a stepping stone to your next great opportunity.
- If a position that “you do not qualify for” interests you given your experience, do not be deterred from applying. Perhaps you will not receive a reply to your application. Non-responsive internship contacts are common. Or maybe, just maybe, you will get an offer.
- Don’t let passed deadlines stop you from applying. Often internships are open year-round and have January – December posting time frames. Sometimes full internships unexpectedly open. Apply to any internship that interests you. You have nothing to lose. With every new application you submit, you may develop skills using software to efficiently edit and personalize each application.
- See the Internship Guide (click Land an Internship on the navigation bar) for complete instructions on the search.
