Sector Report

Monthly LIC update – top picks

This report contains a LIC sector update and performance review of our coverage list for the month of April 2019. The table on page two provides an update of the overall sector, as at 31 May 2019, with our estimated current NTAs derived from our model portfolios for the LICs.

Top picks: Our top picks refer to preferred exposures within each sector based on numerous quantitative and qualitative factors. However, they should not be treated as official stock recommendations but merely as a guide to where we would apportion funds at this particular point in time.

Traditional LICs: The All Ordinaries Accumulation Index (XAOAI) continues to rally strongly, up 1.7% in May, following a 2.5% rise in April. Traditional LICs, on average, re-rated during May, outperforming the XAOAI by 1.7% and by 2.4% post the federal election, as risks to franking policy changes subsided. Despite this outperformance, we believe the current trading levels of traditional LICs remain attractive, with a majority trading below respective averages. Our current top picks include Diversified United Investment (DUI) and AFIC (AFI), trading at estimated 4.2% and 3.1% discounts to NTA respectively.

Large capitalisation: We had previously discussed how we believed WAM Leaders (WLE) may have been a potential beneficiary (within the WAMI stable) of a Labor victory at the federal election from a premium to NTA de-rating of WAM and WAX. Despite the election result, we believe WLE offers both relative and absolute value (currently trading at an estimated 8.9% discount to NTA). We believe WLE is well placed to continue to ramp up its dividend profile (currently yielding 4.7%). Elsewhere, OPH remains a top pick, trading at an estimated 1.6% discount to NTA. Since listing (Dec-19) OPH has outperformed the ASX Mid-Small Accumulation Index (XMSAI) by 3.6% and 6.6% on a TSR and NTA basis respectively.

Small capitalisation: WAM Microcap (WMI) is our top pick. Although interim trading level estimates are difficult to forecast, we believe WMI continues to trade at a slight discount to NTA. At these levels, we believe risk is skewed to the upside due to: 1) WAMI management has a strong track record of outperformance in the ASX small cap space; and 2) WMI has a robust retained earnings balance to progressively increase its div. yield (currently 5.0%). Elsewhere, Acorn Capital (ACQ), trading at an estimated 18.4% discount to NTA, provides exposure to an illiquid and not overly accessible asset class – private equity, which currently represents 32% of ACQ's portfolio.

International: The AUD depreciated against the USD by 1.6% in May-19, providing tailwinds for a majority of international LICs that are unhedged to currency. Our current top picks include MFF Capital Investment (MFF) and PM Capital Global Opportunities Fund (PGF), trading at estimated 6.1% and 14.6% discounts to NTA respectively. TSR has lagged NTA growth and we believe risk is to the upside should MFF and PGF revert back to more normalised trading levels (when compared to historical averages).

Specialist: Hearts and Minds (HM1) is our top pick. Since listing (Nov-18) HM1 has outperformed the MSCI World Index by 2.4% (NTA basis). Holding a portfolio of the highest conviction investment ideas from leading investment managers, we believe the current estimated 1.4% premium to NTA provides an attractive entry point for investors.
