DVL GROUP ACHIEVES THIRD ACQUISITION IN EIGHT MONTHS, PURCHASING SALT LAKE CITY-BASED TECHNICAL BUILDING SYSTEMS COMPANY II, INC.

Bristol, Pa. —March 1, 2019 — DVL Group, Inc., an employee owned data center solutions company, has acquired the Salt Lake City-based data center solutions company Technical Building Systems Company II, Inc. The acquisition was effective February 28, 2019, at which time DVL became a company of more than 110 associates, serving seven states. This is the company’s third acquisition in less than a year, as on June 30, 2018, DVL acquired both AC Systems and AC New Mexico, respectively located in the Denver metro area and Albuquerque, N.M. Prior to these first two acquisitions, DVL was a company of 85 associates, serving only the territory of Eastern and Central Pennsylvania, Southern New Jersey, and the state of Delaware.

The acquisition of Technical Building Systems Company II, Inc. and the Utah territory is a continuation of DVL’s expansion in the region. With last summer’s successful acquisitions behind him, DVL’s CEO, Gary Hill, looks ahead to new opportunities in 2019 and beyond. He states that with the completion of this third acquisition “we will be better suited to serve our regional customers and locally expand our business into more critical space environments.” He also mentions future business that will come from Utah, remarking that the “presence of many technology companies make this an ideal market to do business.”

It is important to note that while the entity previously known as “Technical Building Systems Company II, Inc.” is now part of DVL, the entity known as “Technical Building Systems, Inc” is remaining in place as the Tate Access Flooring Distributor for Utah.
