DVL Appointed as Regional Industrial Generator Distributor for Generac Power Systems
DVL to Represent Generac Industrial Power

Bristol, Pa. – April 3, 2020 – Generac Power Systems, Inc., a leading global supplier of energy technology solutions, is pleased to announce that DVL Group, Inc., has entered into an agreement to represent Generac Power Systems as a Generac Industrial Power dealer. DVL expands its spectrum of critical infrastructure offerings by representing Generac Industrial Power in Colorado, New Mexico, and Southern Wyoming. DVL is one of only 30 such distributors throughout North America.

“We are proud to add DVL to our expert distributor network, all of whom are driven to be the best in power generation,” said Shreyas Patel, President Industrial Solutions and Mobile. “Like Generac, DVL is dedicated to quality product reputation, mature training programs, and product innovation. These core beliefs led us to this beneficial partnership to help strengthen our commitment to supplying the highest quality of power generation products available.”

For more than three decades, DVL has built its foundation on combining expertise and experiences in order to power critical environments. The sudden loss of power can cause major disruptions in critical information and manufacturing systems and could even place lives in jeopardy. DVL installs top-of-the-line generators as well as the necessary paralleling gear, transfer switches and sound attenuation for each unit to achieve greatly reduced operational sound levels.

“DVL is proud to be associated with Generac and is thrilled to become an Industrial Power Dealer,” said Gary Hill, President and CEO, DVL. “We are very committed to this endeavor and are looking forward to offering best-in-class service and support in conjunction with Generac’s world-class products.”

Generac Power Systems is a market leader in standby generators for commercial and industrial applications, and maintains a focus on development of its network of industrial product distributors. The company continues to expand its range of products into industrial power applications in order to offer its customer base access to a full range of Generac products.
